

The Sister Mary Gray McNally
Très Bien

to

Suzanne Desloge Weiss
City House Class of 1964

“We cultivate a very small field for Christ, but we love it, knowing that God does not require great achievements but a heart that holds back nothing for self.” Suzanne Weiss has dedicated her life to her family, friends, and most importantly her faith. She emulates these words of St. Rose Philippine Duchesne in all of her actions. As a fifth generation student of the Sacred Heart, Suzie graduated from City House and her two daughters; Julie and Anne, continued the tradition and became sixth generation Sacred Heart graduates from Villa Duchesne. As one of her four children, I can say with certainty that the Sacred Heart community has shaped my mom into the incredible servant she is today. Always putting family first, whether it is her husband, Charles, one of her four children, her mother, or her own grandchildren, Suzie is always ready to help in any way possible. She is particularly strong when it comes to caring for the sick or injured and she generously offers her time and support to not only family, but any friends, and also strangers. Those who know her or who have experienced her generosity know that she is passionate about offering her help, whether she is driving someone to a doctor appointment, visiting someone in the hospital, bringing her famous homemade pea soup, or just offering her company, Suzie’s selfless devotion to others is undeniable.

Suzie is defined by her complete and abiding passion for Sacred Heart education and her devotion to her Catholic faith. She understands the call for selfless actions and giving unto others. She demonstrates her dedication to the ideals instilled during her school years and she carries these out in her day to day life. Suzie charitably offers her time and commitment to Villa / City House activities including Mums of Alums and the Alumni board. In addition, she also volunteers and dedicates her time to causes for Maryville University, as well as her parish, Church of the Annunziata where she currently serves on the parish council. Each month Suzie also makes and donates casseroles to St. Patrick’s center. Enrollment in Cornerstone bible study as well as daily attendance at mass is evidence of Suzie’s devout faith.

For many years, Suzie Weiss, or Mom as I know her, has left her mark on the hearts of many and has been instrumental in sharing the love of Christ with those who come into her life. For all she has done for her own family, but also the Sacred Heart community, I would like to say “Tres Bien!”
